DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. It is unclear if Applicant intended to positively claim the "toy vehicle track segment" and the "toy vehicle" as part of the toy vehicle package in the fifth paragraph.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lambert (US Pat 4,285,157).

With respect to claims 1,2 and 3, Lambert discloses a package for holding a toy vehicle and a track segment, said package comprising: a generally planar backing board (Lambert Fig 1 ref 42); a transparent blister housing (16; see also column 1, lines 63-67) defining a housing secured to said backing board and defining an opening (Fig 2) therein; a center hub (23) supported by said backing board generally centered in said opening; and an annular rib/means for supporting (20) a track segment (26) formed into a generally cylindrical path within said blister housing. Lambert also discloses that said blister housing, said center hub and said means for supporting cooperate to receive a toy vehicle (24) and capable of allowing a toy vehicle to move within said blister housing while remaining captivated therein (see second embodiment "loop-the-loop" track configuration Fig 3).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lambert (US Pat 4,285,157).

With respect to claim 4, while Lambert does not disclose that the center hub defines a tapered hub, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to taper the central hub, since applicant has not disclosed that tapering the hub solves any stated problem or is for any particular purpose and it appears that the invention would perform equally well with a uniform central hub.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. See PTO 892.
